

CATALOOCHEE RANCH

The heart of Cataloochee Ranch is adventure. We delight in giving you the opportunity to try something new, to indulge curiosity, to play, and to explore. While we love opening familiar and favorite bottles for guests, we hope you take the challenge and experience something new.

Just as we value gathering around the fire to share a story, we love drinks that tell good stories. Our wines are selected for a sense of place, made by real people with rich histories.

We celebrate the beauty of the natural world and support winemakers and growers focused on sustainability. Highlighting those who care about the environmental impact of their work, we strive to do what we can to be good stewards.

Above all, this list reflects our value for love and community. We won't put anything on this list that we don't love! While you are here, we hope that you open a bottle around a table with loved ones and deepen the bonds of love and community that join us together.

Wine Director, Cara De Lavallade

At Cataloochee Ranch, Adventure is at the Heart of Everything

Here is a thoughtfully composed list of wines for those who are curious, adventure-seeking wine lovers. Included are bottles produced in little-known regions, from lesser-known grapes, made in unusual methods, and by courageous individuals with notable stories. The world of wine is vast and ever changing... enjoy the journey!

❖❖❖ White

Suertes del Marques ‘Trenzado Parajes del Oeste’ Listan Blanco 60
Valle de la Orotava, Canary Islands, Spain 2023

The Canary Islands, a subtropical archipelago off the coast of Morocco, is one of the most exciting wine regions to explore today. This flinty white wine comes from the island of Tenerife, in the Valle de la Orotava, which is situated in the shadow of Mount Teide, the world’s third largest active volcano. Fresh and pure, with notes of smoke and salinity, this wine delivers a true sense of place, its character unfolding the story of its home in every sip.

Sanctuary Vineyards ‘Pearl’ Albariño 70
Currituck County, North Carolina 2023

Just three miles from the Atlantic Ocean, in the wilderness of North Carolina’s Outer Banks, lies a truly coastal, truly North Carolinian vineyard. Seventh-generation farmer, John Wright, found that Albariño, a grape variety originating from Spanish coastal vineyards in Galicia, thrived in his sandy soils and sea air. This is a crispy, refreshing white wine made for oysters and shellfish. When we drink this at Cataloochee Ranch, we bring the ocean to the mountains.

❖❖❖ Orange

Limited Addition ‘Old Vine’ Pinot Gris 68
Eola Amity Hills, Willamette Valley, Oregon 2022

Master of Wine and winemaker, Bree Stock, believes that diversity- from grape varieties, to wine styles, to winemaking methods- is the future of Oregon wine and will help to sustain the industry. This Pinot Gris was made from 40-year old vines and fermented entirely on skins, which adds texture, aromatic and flavor complexity. An ‘orange wine’, this Pinot Gris walks the line between white and red wine, offering notes of mountain berries, persimmon, red tea, and warm cumin-like spice.

❖❖❖ Red

Lightwell Survey ‘The Weird Ones Are Wolves’ Cabernet Franc 60
Shenandoah Valley, Virginia 2022

This is the new generation of Virginia winemaking! Winemaker Ben Jordan seeks out high-elevation, cool sites in the northwest corner of the state to make clean, affable wines that are made naturally, with native yeasts, no added sulfur, and minimal filtration. A true microwinery, Lightwell Survey produces only 1,200 cases per year. We love the zesty character of this light-bodied, chillable red, perfect for barbecues and sunny days.
